Western Counties - Defiance, Fulton, Henry, Paulding, Putnam and Williams

In the Western Counties, the single-family housing market showed steady sales activity despite a sharp drop in new listings. Closed sales increased 5.3%, rising from 95 to 100 homes sold, even as new listings declined 55.3%, tightening available inventory. Homes took longer to sell, with days on market increasing to 87, while price per square foot dipped slightly to $128 and the average sales price declined 5.5% to $205,489. Months supply of inventory fell 34.1%, indicating a tighter market for buyers.

Despite these shifts, total sales volume remained essentially flat at $20.5 million. In the condo/villa segment, activity was limited but improved from last year, with four closed sales recorded compared to none a year ago, generating $821,000 in total volume.

Overall, the single-family market remained active but constrained by fewer new listings, while the condo market saw modest activity after no sales in the previous year.
